

MP's wife Jyothi, son Sarat Chandra, and friend Gannamaneni Venkateswara Rao

Vizag MP's son, wife held captive for 48 hrs, rescued

Police says history-sheeter abducted them and MP's friend for ransom, two arrested

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Visakhapatnam

THE Visakhapatnam police arrested two persons who have allegedly kept the wife and son of ruling YSRC party MP representing Visakhapatnam, MVV Satyanarayana, as captive for 48 hours. The auditor friend of the MP was also held captive for a day before. All the three were safely released by the police. Four other accused are absconding.

Satyanarayana's wife Jyothi, son Sarat Chandra and his auditor friend and former chairman of Visakhapatnam Smart City Corporation Gannamaneni Venkateswara Rao alias GV were held captive for ransom, the police said. They were held captive by the abductors in Sarat Chandra's house at Rushikonda. The police said, history-sheeter Ch Hemant Kumar was the alleged key conspirator.

The police commissioner said he received a call from the MP at 8 am informing him that he had some doubts about the safety of GV as he was not answering his phone calls. The police traced his mobile in Rushikonda and reached there. The accused tried to flee but the police chased and nabbed two of them. It was only after reaching Rushikonda that they came to know that the MP's wife and son were kept captive by the gang.

The accused first held Sarat Chandra captive on Tuesday and forced him to call his mother and invite her. Later, she was also held captive. The police filed a case and a probe is on.

Mothakkal to get 7 CCTV cams to halt caste bias

RAJALAKSHMI SAMPATH @ Tiruvannamalai

AFTER a two-part series by TNIE highlighted discrimination against the members of the Scheduled Caste community in Mothakkal, things changed for the better in the village for a while but the alleged caste discrimination reared its ugly head again. As a result, on Thursday, Tiruvannamalai Collector B Murugesh set up a committee and ordered the installation of seven CCTV cameras in an attempt to root out discrimination.

Based on TNIE reports, officials of Thandrapet police department had organised a peace talk between members of the SC and Vanniyar communities. They also told the shop owners to treat all customers equally, including serving tea in the same type of tumblers and told barbers to provide services to the SCs. For a short time, the SCs were treated as equals at tea shops and some barbers volunteered to give haircuts to SC customers.

This, however, did not go down well with the Vanniyaars, as over 500 members of the community gathered near Mothakkal bus stand on Tuesday evening and demanded that shop owners refrain from extending services to the SCs. "We had tea in a tumbler. Most of the caste Hindus couldn't accept it," said a SC resident.

On Wednesday, it was back to square one as the shop owners boycotted the SCs and downed shutters. Those willing to run businesses were allegedly not allowed to operate by the Vanniyaars. "Not a single shop owner was willing to sell anything to us," said a SC resident of the village. The other villagers

meanwhile convened a meeting over prohibiting members of the SC community from working on land owned by caste Hindus. "Most of our women are employed on caste Hindu lands," said a resident.

On Thursday, Collector Murugesh's PA (general), SP and the revenue development officer visited Mothakkal to facilitate peace talks between the two communities. The caste Hindus, however, did not agree to the complaints raised against them. Consequently, Collector Murugesh formed a committee to look into the matter. A police official said, "The situation in Mothakkal is gradually returning to normal with the deployment of five police officials."

Although some Schedule Caste members managed to purchase goods from certain shops, they are afraid that others will refuse them.

"In 2008, we conducted a survey which revealed caste discrimination persisting in 22 villages. At that time, we submitted a petition to the collector, but to no avail. In Mothakkal, small-scale businessmen are affected," said CPI (Marxist) co-ordinator Selvam.

An official confirmed that the collector instructed them to inspect the situation. More peace talks will be scheduled soon, and until then, police will be deployed to monitor the situation. Collector Murugesh has also asked the committee, comprising RDO Marthangi, Tahsildar Raghu and DSP Murugan, to file a report soon.

'Returning file tantamount to interference'

According to sources, the governor had sought 'correct' reason for reallocation of portfolios after the government's file said Balaji has been hospitalised for health issues, and since he was being treated at hospital, his portfolios needed to be reallocated.

Ponnudiy also said the CM had recommended that the portfolios of Senthil Balaji be reallocated to ministers Thangam Thennarasu (electricity portfolio) and S Muthusamy (excise and prohibition) and that Balaji would continue as a minister without portfolio until he recovers. "The CM had said the governor returning the file raising unnecessary issues is tantamount to interference in government administration and is also against the Constitution. In his reply, the CM had requested the governor to give his approval for the recommendation for reallocation of portfolios," Ponnudiy said. The minister also said the government has sent a reply on the very next day to the governor's letter dated May 31 in which he had advised the CM to drop Senthil Balaji from the council of ministers. In the letter, the

CM had pointed out that the governor's letter was violative of the Constitution and he has no powers to make recommendations for dropping or appointing ministers.

The CM's reply on June 1 had also made it clear that there is no need for ministers to step down just because they face cases. Ponnudiy also pointed out that cases were pending against union home minister Amit Shah and there are cases pending against 33 union ministers now. The governor should first write to the BJP to drop these ministers, the minister said.
